Judge Wm. G. Thomas Arrived in Wrangell 43 Years Ago Yesterday

Yesterday was the forty-third anniversary of Judge Wm. G. Thomas' arrival in Wrangell. The Judge had planned to commemorate the day by having open house in the afternoon. Unfortunately, however, he became ill Tuesday evening, and although able to be up yesterday he was not well enough for entertaining. This was as much of a disappointment to the Judge's friends as to himself, as it is a treat to hear him relate incidences in the life of this community almost half a century ago.

Judge Thomas says he knows of only four people now living who were here when he came. They are Maurice Healy and E. P. Lynch who still reside in Wrangell; Edward Ludecke who is in the Pioneers' home at Sitka, and Charles Morse of Juneau. He further stated that the only buildings now standing in Wrangell proper that were here when he came are the buildings comprising the old garrison which are now used as courthouse, jail and customs house.

Louis and Ned Lemieux, who have been absent from Wrangell since September 26, arrived home on the Princess Mary Tuesday morning. The boys travelled as far east as New York, but spent most of their time in the province of Quebec. They also spent some time in the City of Ottawa. Mrs. A. Lemieux, who accompanied her sons on their trip east, stopped off on the way home at Kamloops, B. C. where she will spend some time before returning to Alaska. The Lemieux boys were accompanied home by their cousin, C. Courval, of Ottawa.

Was One of the First White Settlers on the West Coast of Prince of Wales Island. —Was an Uncle of Donald Sinclair of Wrangell.

James Millar, the venerable father of Craig Millar who is superintendent of the Swift Arthur Crosby Packing company, passed away in Seattle on Thursday, February 26.

Mr. Millar was 84 years of age. He was a native of Scotland, but had lived in America for a number of years. He was one of the first men in Alaska to operate a fish saltery, and was one of the first white settlers on the West Coast of Prince of Wales Island 40 years ago.

Mr. Millar was a 32nd degree Mason and deeply interested in the affairs of that fraternity. His funeral occurred in Seattle under the auspices of F. & A. M., Washington Chapter, Rose Croix No. 1, and Nile Temple.

Donald Sinclair of Wrangell, who is a nephew of Mr. Millar, happened to be in Seattle at the time of his death and was in attendance at the funeral.

Mr. Millar is survived by four sons and two daughters. They are Alex, Andrew, Bert and Craig Millar, Mrs. R. B. Bell of Seattle, and Mrs. W. A. Bryant of Ketchikan.

A. L. Brown, the pioneer merchant of Craig, is in Ketchikan today awaiting passage south. Mr. Brown reported that everything looks very favorable for the coming season for the West Coast. He also reported that the Columbia Salmon company, better known as the Linderbergers, are putting a one-line cannery in their old cannery buildings located in Craig. Last year the company took all of the cannery machinery from the Craig cannery to their new cannery at Tenakee near Juneau. The company intends to operate both of the canneries during the coming season and also their mild cure plant at Craig. — Ketchikan Times.

Several weeks ago the little one became ill and was taken to Seattle by its mother for medical treatment. After three weeks in Seattle the baby was somewhat improved. Two weeks ago Mrs. Rowley and children left Seattle for a visit with her mother at Kalispell, Mont., and it was there that the death occurred.

WIDOW OF JOHN BARONOVICH GETS MARRIED

(Hydaburg New Native)

The greatest surprise of the year to the townspeople in matrimonial matters came last Wednesday when Dr. L. Pryor of Tenakee hailed into town on the specially chartered boat Acram to lay claim upon one of the most popular women in town, Mrs. Lela Baronovich. The couple left the following day for Craig. Dr. Pryor and wife will go back to Tenakee.

We were all genuinely happy to see Mrs. Baronovich with a good sourdough like Dr. Pryor. Nevertheless, we should like to see them settle here. The suggestion of coming here to get a hospital under way was passed to the doctor. He smiled and said: "You never can tell. We may come around some day."

The New Native extends to Dr. and Mrs. Pryor a very happy greeting and best wishes for health and happiness.

St. Philip's Church

The Master in the Town

The forum is becoming today a popular means of education. Here men are asked to freely express their opinions, however radical or unusual they may be. The only limitation prescribed is that opinions be honest and that each be considerate of the opinions of the other.

In ancient times they had similar forums. Greece had them and also Jerusalem. The porches of the temple were used as public forums. Here the Master did much of his teaching. Sunday evening next at St. Philip's Church we will see the Master in the forum.

You are invited.

Cuttings of Alaska crab apples have been taken to California recently. It is thought that the California variety will be grafted to them to make a hardy stock to grow in the lowlands.

NEW, GREAT FORCES AT WORK

Demand for New Order of Things is Universal and Reactionaries Merely Swell the Rising Tide of Discontent.

Article IV.

By FRANK COMERFORD.

The most obvious thing in Europe is the changed attitude of the people, and yet there are many, particularly in the conservative, employing class, who refuse to see. There are none so blind as these. While they close their eyes and minds to the obvious, the change goes on. It is not idle rhetoric to say that new great forces are at work. Of course you cannot see the forces any more than you can see the grass growing, but you can see the effects. You can measure the character of the forces.

Everywhere I found people talking about a new Order. Men separated by hundreds of miles are thinking and talking the same ideas. It startled me to hear the same ideas up in the Balkans that I had heard in France and England. I did not meet any one who was able to give me a clear, complete meaning of the phrase, but it is on the lips of everyone. It has a meaning, and time will produce a plan. The people are forward looking—they are thinking, waiting for something to happen. They have faith that it will happen and that it will bring great good to the human race. Every one seems confident that some great compensation must and will come out of the siege of suffering through which they have passed. If they were not so earnest, so sane, so determined about it I should have interpreted their enthusiasm as fantasy.

A meaningless minority of reactionaries scorn and scoff at all talk of a new Order. These are the backward-looking men of big business, the stand-patters in politics. They are out of touch with the times; they think the real world is the little circle in which they live. They are the barnacles on big business. They smugly set down all talk of change as bolshevism. Fortunately the real leaders of business are breaking away from this point of view. Progressive, human and open minded, they see and know that unrest is a problem and that it must be solved. They are paying heed to the complaints of the workers. They admit that there is justice back of the complaints. Instead of arguing coercion, they are talking concession. They know a change has come, they want to meet it.

New Order Must Come.

A new Order will come. The one question that is bothering the minds of men who are awake to the change is, will it come through revolution or through evolution. The greatest friend of revolution is the stubborn employer who refuses to see the change, accepts things as they are, and insists upon the use of force as the only cure for unrest.

Money is a gross thing when compared with human life. To mention Europe's financial losses in the same breath with her dead and wounded, seems sordid, but it is an everyday world and in it money has its logical place. Since the war some people are thinking that money has had too important a place in the world. It has been charged with pushing man out of his place, but bills must be paid and Europe needs money. The war cost billions and billions of dollars. Millions of men had to be clad and shod, billions and billions of cartridges and shells, rifles, cannons, airplanes, ships, were made. Europe owes the money. How will she pay it; where will she get it? It is a question that even the wisest and most optimistic of men in Europe hesitate to answer. Some wonder, is there an answer?

Europe has borrowed until her interest charge today is almost as large as her whole cost of governmental administration was a few years ago. I heard Lloyd George say that England faced a yearly interest charge of three hundred million pounds. Another official told me that this interest charge that England must pay each year is nearly one hundred million pounds a year larger than the cost of administration was at the time of the Boer war. Only the other day her interest was due on some loans from the United States and she was forced to default, and our government charged the interest to the principal and passed the day of payment on. In the meantime the pound is going down in value. When I was on the Continent it had reached $4.14. Today it is under $3.57, and steadily going down.

France is in even a worse plight. The banks are loaded with government paper. She has made no provision by taxation to pay her debt. I was told on every hand that any effort to impose a tax would bring on a revolution. It is said that her debt has reached the startling figure of $640 for every man, woman and child in the country. When I left Cherbourg to sail for America a regulation had been put into effect prohibiting any one leaving France from taking money with him, either metal or paper money. In excess of a thousand francs, and on that day you could buy almost nine francs for an American dollar. Can France pay? The figures prove France insolvent. Her officials and her men of prominence say she cannot pay. Her war debt is enormous.

Poverty on Every Side.

Italy is as bankrupt as France. A forced loan temporarily held the lira from losing all of its value. Her war debt threatens the throne.

In the new Balkan countries we find no gold reserve, little but poverty. In Czechoslovakia the government closed the borders for ten days, commanded the people to bring their money to the banks where stamps were put on the bills. When they brought their money they were given 50 per cent of it back and receipts for the balance. In this way the government cut down the volume of paper money 50 per cent. Even after this was done in the city of Prague I bought kronens for less than two cents a piece.

In Poland every kind and species of paper money is in circulation. Her frontiers have not been fixed by the peace table, and the profiteers in money smuggling have dumped the worthless paper of Europe into Poland. In October I was in Warsaw and my recollection is that the mark was worth about two cents in American money. Poland has no metal money. She hasn't a gold reserve. Her struggle to get credit to keep her people from dying by the millions from hunger and cold is pitiful.

Austria is penniless, poverty-stricken. Vienna is a city of ghosts, listless, peopled, human beings. They drag their feet after them. Their heads are bent between their shoulders. The kronen was worth a cent when I was there in September, and even at that price there was practically nothing to buy. Austria in her extremity, her people starving, petitioned the peace table for the privilege of selling her art treasures and heirlooms. The plea was to exchange them for bread and coal. Necessity prompted the plea. The peace table refused the permission, holding that these things of value might be the only collateral out of which the allies could collect the indemnity.

Europe's debt is her crown of thorns, as her dead is her cross. Unrest is her Calvary. A new Order is her hope—her resurrection.

Facing Gigantic Task.

Europe is not dying; she is exhausted, tortured, confused. She is trying to find herself. She is putting all of her remaining strength into the effort. The task before her is stupendous. She must rebuild her house. She must nurse her wounded, care for her cripples. She has counted her losses, inventoried her possessions.

The past must bury its dead. Tomorrow is for the living. Today she is planning for the tomorrow. She must repair her house, put it in order. To understand her work, to know her plans, to feel her problem, it is necessary to know her thoughts.

Unrest is frightening her. Fear is keeping her from work. It is causing her to worry. With all her soul she is pleading to the rich and powerful to become as little children again, her children. She is telling them that the fate of the family is at stake, that they must make concessions to their more unfortunate brothers. She is trying to make them understand that they are brothers. Many of them have forgotten the relationship. When she urges them to stop wrangling and quarreling she is pleading for their common good, the family welfare. She is warning against the danger of justice too long denied, of unrest too long pent up. She is translating the long-terrors and mumbings of the discontented. She knows the complaint in their hearts, she sympathizes, she understands.

This was Europe as I saw her in her black rags arising from the war. (Copyright, 1920, Western Newspaper Union)

Greatest American Humorist.

On the 30th of November, in 1835, Samuel Langhorne Clemens (Mark Twain) was born at Florida, Monroe county, Mo. Mark Twain first was a pilot on the Mississippi river. At the age of twenty-seven he began his literary career as city editor of a newspaper, the Enterprise, in Virginia City, Nev. He is the best known of American humorists, and his works have been widely translated. During his life-time Mark Twain lectured a great deal in this country and in Europe. He had a great charm of personality and was beloved by all who knew him. He died at Redding, Conn., April 21, 1910.

Shoemakers' Wax a Liquid.

It is not always possible to draw a very clear line of demarcation between a liquid and a solid. Shoemaker's wax, which is so brittle that the fragmentation obtained when a sheet of it is hit by a bullet resembles that in the case of the very brittle metal antimony, is actually a liquid. To show this place leaden bullets upon a sheet of shoemaker's wax and then support the whole upon corks. At the end of a month the corks will be found floating upon the sheet of wax instead of beneath it and the bullets will be at the bottom as in a liquid.

Largest Movie House.

New York has in building a moving picture theater with a seating capacity of 5,300, which may constitute it the largest of its kind anywhere. Judging by the heavy patronage in other such places, the new house may be filled at the chief performances. The public is seeking professional entertainment as never before.

To Discuss the Question of Whether Town of Wrangell
Shall Issue Bonds

A public meeting of the people of Wrangell is hereby called to convene in the Redmen's lodge room, upstairs in the Redmen's building, on the evening of Monday, August 15, at 8 o'clock, for the purpose of a public discussion of the question of whether the Town of Wrangell shall issue bonds in the manner prescribed in H. R. Bill No. 10746 which has passed the Senate and House of Representatives and been duly signed by the Vice President and Speaker of the House.

This question will be submitted to the voters of Wrangell at a special election held on Tuesday, April 6, 1920. It is believed that a public discussion of the question will result in a better understanding of the matter thereby enabling the electors to vote more intelligently on the question.

The meeting will be open to all, but an especial invitation is extended to all voters, both men and women.

By order of the Town Council.

J. W. Pritchett,
Mayor.

An Act of Congress

Following is the text of the Wrangell Bonding Bill which was recently passed by Congress:

H. R. 10746

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
A BILL

To authorize the incorporated town of Wrangell, Alaska, to issue bonds for the construction, enlargement, and equipment of schools, the acquisition and construction of a water-supply system, the construction of a sewer system, the construction of a city dock and floating dock, and to levy and collect a special tax therefor.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the incorporated town of Wrangell, Alaska, is hereby authorized and empowered to issue its bonds in any sum, not exceeding $80,000, for the purpose of enlarging its schoolhouse and constructing and equipping schools, for the acquisition and construction of a water-supply system, for the construction of a sewer system and for the construction of a city dock and also a floating dock.

Sec. 2. That before said bonds shall be issued a special election shall be ordered by the common council of the town of Wrangell, at which election the question of whether such bonds shall be issued shall be submitted to the qualified electors of said town of Wrangell. Thirty days' notice of any such election shall be given by publication thereof in a newspaper printed and published and of general circulation in said town before the day fixed for such election.

Sec. 3. That the registration for such election, the manner of conducting the same, and the canvass of the returns of said election shall be, as nearly as practicable, in accordance with the requirements of law in general or special elections in said municipality, and said bonds shall be issued only upon the condition that a majority of the votes cast at such election in said town shall be in favor of issuing said bonds.

Sec. 4. That the bonds above specified, when authorized to be issued as hereinbefore provided, shall bear interest at a rate not to exceed 6 per centum per annum, payable annually, and shall be sold for not less than their par value, with accrued interest, and shall be in denominations not exceeding $1,000 each, the principal to be due in 20 years from the date thereof: Provided, however, That the common council of the town of Wrangell may reserve the right to pay off said bonds in their numerical order at the rate of $10,000 or less thereof per annum at any interest period: Provided further, That on all bonds paid off the first year after date there shall be paid a premium of 2½ per centum, on all bonds paid off the second year a premium of 2 per centum, on all bonds paid off the third year a premium of 1½ per centum, and on all bonds paid off the fourth year a premium of 1 per centum besides interest. Principal and interest shall be paid in lawful money of the United States of America at the office of the town treasurer of the town of Wrangell, Alaska, or at such other place as may be designated by the common council of said town of Wrangell, the place of payment to be mentioned in said bonds: And provided further, That each and every bond shall have the written signature of the mayor and clerk of said town of Wrangell and also bear the seal of said town.

Sec. 5. That no part of the funds arising from the sale of said bonds shall be used for any other purpose than that specified in this Act. Said bonds shall be sold only in such amounts as the common council shall direct, and the proceeds thereof shall be disbursed for the purposes herein mentioned and under the order and direction of said common council from time to time as the same may be required for said purposes: Provided, That not to exceed $15,000 of the proceeds of the sale of said bonds shall be expended for the construction, enlargement, and equipment of schools; not to exceed $25,000 thereof shall be expended for the acquisition and construction of a water supply system; not to exceed $15,000 thereof shall be expended for the construction of a sewer system; and not to exceed $20,000 thereof shall be expended for the construction of a city dock; and not to exceed $5,000 thereof shall be expended for the construction of a floating dock.

Sec. 6. That said town of Wrangell is hereby authorized to annually assess, levy, and collect a special tax, not to exceed 2 per centum of the assessed valuation, upon all the real and personal property situated in said town, and to enforce the collection of the same as other taxes, to provide for the payment of said bonds; such tax, if levied and collected, shall be used exclusively for such purpose, and may be administered as a sinking fund therefor.
